HIS HORSE FELL ON HIM.

ACCIDENT TO MR. E. E. EARLY WHILE OUT RIDING.

A Negro Discovered While in the Act of Stealing Brasses -- Accident to Mr. J. C.

erday evening by being thrown from his horse. The young gentleman left his Misses Carter and Rosalie Thornton, daughters of Prof. Wm. M. Thornton, daughters of Prof. Wm. M. Thornton, University of Virginia, who have been spending the fiolidays with Misses Nannie and Lily Hill, returned home Monday. drug store of Mr. J. C. Snellings, to take a ride. He had gotten beyond Maury threw the rider heavity to the ground and it is supposed he then fell on the prostrate man, Mr. Early was knocked and it is supposed he then fell on the prostrate man. Mr. Early was knocked unconscious, and when he revived the horse was standing beside him. He managed to get up and mount his steed and make his way to his room.

Dr. W. P. Matthews was at once summoned to attend the wounded man. He found that Mr. Early had sustained severe bruises on both lower timbs and his right hip was painfully bruised. It was at first thought that his leg was broken, but such was found not to be the case. As it is the young man will be confined to his bed for several days.

CAUGHIT IN THE ACT.

Mr. Taylor, the car inspector for the Atlantic Coast Line, discovered a mulatto negro in the act of oreaking into the brass house in the yard yesterday about noon, Mr. Taylor was on his way to the shops in this city, and when he had gotten near the house he saw the negro with a hatchet attempting to break the door down, He rade for the thier, but the man, seeing him coming, ran away and made down Twelfith street in the direction of Hull, The police of the city were nothined, and have been hooking for the man, but have not been able to arrest him up to this time.

This house has been broken into twice very recently and a number of brasses stolen each time. It is supposed that this near is the thief who has done the work each time.

SHOT IN THE HAND.

negro is the thief who has done the work each time.

Mr. J. C. Smith, the junk man, was painfully shot in the hand yesterday about dusk. Besides doing a junk business Mr. Smith also carries a line of hardware. He loaned a pistol out of his stock to a gentleman, who used it in a private theatrical play. The pistol was returned to the owner last evening, and he began to snap the cock, not knowing that it was loaded, when it was discharged. The ball entered Mr. Smiths hand at the paim and came through at the wrist, wounding him very painfully. The wounded man went to Dr. Lawrence logram's office, where he was treated and afterwards taken home.

OVERDOSE OF LAUDANUM.

Mrs. Cheatham, an aged lady of Marx's Addition, took an overcose or inudanum sunday night. When the family returned from church they discovered that something was wrong with her, and en looking on the bed they discovered a bottle labelled laudanum.

She became worke and the members of the family at once summoned Dr. Ruckt, who worked on her and left her out.

Miss Florence Moody entertained a number of her young Irlends at the residence of her mother. Ars. India C. Moody, on Fifteenth and Forter streets, Monday night. The occasion was a lancy dress affair, and the costumes of the young people were both pretty and comety. The young people had a glorious time and their bright faces and merry laughter was a scene never to be forgotten by the older persons present.

FIRE IN SWANSBORO.

Mrs. Carrie Cheatham, who lives on Clopton street in Swansboro, lost her home and contents yesterday morning by fire. Her mother, Mrs. Mann, had gotten up at an early hour to prepare the morning meal, after which she laid down on the bed and was aroused by sparks Inling upon her. She gave the alarm, but before help arrived the building and contents were badly damaged.

When the people of that town learned with the fire they turned out as one man to appress the flames. At Toler & Sons actory the works were shut down and a maket brigane formed, who repaired at once to the scene to give the best help they could.

they could.

Swansboro is without water supply, and when a fire occurs they have to light it with buckets and abything else available. The loss Mrs. Cheatham sustained on house and contents was about $60. They were insured. The fire was caused by a defective fine.
